

Hazardous Substance Free Policy

As the world's leading dedicated semiconductor foundry, TSMC not only spearheads innovation in semiconductor process technology, but also strictly adheres to international environmental regulations. We view hazardous substance free (HSF) management as a commitment to our employees, customers, communities, and the environment. We collaborate with our upstream and downstream supply chain partners to establish a comprehensive hazardous substance process management system. This system encompasses risk assessment, green procurement, green design, green manufacturing, and green supply chain practices. We continuously enhance our management performance through regular reviews, to deliver HSF green products to our customers and fulfill our sustainable development goals.

Our Vision

To be dedicated to providing hazardous substance free products, achieving a sustainable manufacturing service model that safeguards human and environmental well-being.

Our Mission

To manage hazardous substances through source reduction, minimize environmental impact, and ensure that all stages of the product lifecycle comply with hazardous substance free requirements.

Our Guiding Principles

- Risk Assessment: Establish a hazardous substance list and control specifications in accordance with regulations and customer requirements.
- Green Procurement: Manage raw material procurement at the source to ensure compliance with hazardous substance free management standards.
- Green Design: Allocate resources during process technology design and R&D phases to promote cleaner manufacturing, progressively eliminating or restricting the use of hazardous substances.
- Green Manufacturing: Establish appropriate hazardous substance control measures for manufacturing operations based on risk assessment results.
- Green Supply Chain: Collaborate with upstream and downstream supply chain partners and industry associations to promote hazardous substance management and develop environmentally friendly alternative substances.
- Management Review: Set reduction and elimination objectives, regularly track management performance, and report transparently on the progress toward meeting objectives.
